LEGISLATIVE JUGGLING.

A case of legislative juggling has just come to light that, if it turns out to be as it appears on the surface, holds the late Clerk of the Council up to the severest censure. Some time before the adjournment, Council Bill No. 117, entitled "An act to protect the interests of live stock producers," was introduced. It provided that all men offering meat for sale should pay a license of $50 per annum, and that all hides should be held for inspection for a specified time after killing. The object of the bill as stated by the advocates, was to protect cattlemen and regular butchers from the ravages of thieves, who infest the ranges, killing stray cattle and sellvillages at rates against which no honest butcher can compete.

It is openly asserted by several members of the Council that Clerk Strauss declared, when the bill was introduced, that it never would become a law. It passed the Council, however, and was taken to the House March 18, and under suspension of the rules referred to the Ways and Means Committee of that body. Reported back with amendments the morning of the 19th and passed by a vote of 15 to 6. Chief Clerk Hoff reported it back to the Council about 11 o'clock as having been amended and session of the Council was devoted principally to consideration of the appropriation bill. In the evening Mr. Simpson known Treadwell or Paris mine, on clerk declared he did not have it. A 600 tons of ore per diem when both considerable wrangle ensued over it, and finally, after much urging, the bill There are said to be extensive deposits was produced from under a pile of other papers. The House amendment was then agreed to. The bill was engrossed vented its development. Lignite coal of A PERFECT FIT, and presented to the Governor late that a superior quality is also found in varisigned by him, and herein comes in the point, part of Mr. Strauss' little joker. The records of the Governor's office show that the following message of approval of the bill was transmitted to the Coun-

TERRITORY OF ARIZONA,
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR,
PRICEIC, March 19, 1800. TO THE HONORABLE THE COUNCIL OF THE SIX-TRENTH LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY -I have this day approved and signed Council Bill No. 117, an act to protect the interests of live stock producers. JOHN N. IRWIN, Governor.

Notwithstanding this, however, the journal of the Council fails to show that s, ricted. the message of approval of the Governor was ever received. However, the enof the Territory bears the signatures of of the House as having been duly passed by their respective houses, and also bears the approval and signature of the Governor, so that its standing as a law of the Territory is beyond question.

Of course it may be possible that the of the law-making bodies.

Says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "If the President should use the authority given him by the McKinley law and put a special duty on German beet sugar after the other sugars come in free unless Germany withdraws her interdict against American pork, the country would applaud him in so doing. Germany's discrimination against this product is insincere and unjust. It has been proven over and over again by careful and reliable tests that American pork is as wholesome as any produced elsewhere. The triching argument against it has, from the first, been tricky and dishonest. Certain home interests are being benefited by the bar against pork from this country, and these interests have thus far been powerful enough to sway the German Government in this matter."

Two years ago, an American citizen and corporation official was killed at Wilkesbarre, Pa., by unnaturalized Italians, who fled to their own country, and the Government thereof refused to surrender them for trial. This is worth recalling just now when Italy is talking

WEALTH OF ALASKA.

When Secretary Seward negotiated the purchase of Alaska twenty-four ISSUED EVERY DAY (MONDAY EXCEPTED) years ago for the sum of $7,200,000 it was generally condemned as a foolish piece of diplomacy-a virtual throwing THE REPUBLICAN PUBLISHING COMPANY, away of the money, as it were. Long since the wisdom of the purchase was demonstrated, but it is only within re-Entered at the postoffice at Phoenix, Arizona cent years that the great value of Alaska has begun to be appreciated by the general public. Superintendent of the Census Porter took especial pains to gather accurate information of this little-known country, and a partial result of his work is made known in Census Bulletin No. 39, which has just been issued. A condensation of the bulletin shows that the value of the fur-seal skins shipped from Alaska and sold in the London markets since the Territory came into the possession of the United So many complaints have been made by sub- States is nearly $33,000,000, and of

With regard to the fisheries of the Territory, the value of the product of the salmon canneries alone from 1884 to 1890 is reported at nearly $7,000,000, and of salmon salted at $500,000. In 1890 over 3,000,000 salmon were taken at 200,000 cases of salmon were canned at this place last year, 1100 fishermen and packers being employed therein. The herring fishery at Killisnoo yields annually over 150,000 galions of oil and nearly 1000 tons of fertilizing material, and the value of the codfish catch in Alaskan waters since 1868 is stated to be fully $3,000,000.

One of the most eminent authorities on Alaska recently stated it as his belief that the salmon, cod and herring fisheries of the Territory would become of such immense value in the event of the entire destruction of the fur seal, which now preys upon the fish, that its possible extermination is a contingency that need not excite serious alarm. Among the facts brought out is that the red salmon and king salmon (the latter BLACKSMITH - sometimes attaining a length of from ing the meat in neighboring towns and five to six feet and a weight of 120 pounds) literally crowd the waters of the great Yukon river for a distance of several hundred miles.

The whale fisheries of the Arctic ocean in 1890 yielded 226,402 pounds of whalebone, worth from $2.50 to $3.50 per pound; 3980 pounds of ivory, worth 50

oil, worth from 30 to 60 cents per gallon. The total value of the precious metals exported from Alaska up to the present time approaches $4,000,000, the annual production of gold dust and bullion being now $700,000. Within a radius of 100 miles from Juneau quartz mills have | market. passed by the House. The afternoon been established, with an aggregate capacity of 500 stamps. Of these 240 stamps are employed at the wellcalled up Council bill 117, when the Douglas island, capable of reducing steam and water power are utilized. of copper in the Territory, but the difficulty of transportation has hitherto prenight, it being one of the last bills ous places, but is mined at only one

It is difficult to ascertain the quality of merchantable timber in the Territory. but it is probable that the amount has been greatly overestimated. Especially is this true of the yellow cedar, an exceedingly valuable tree, which is to be found only in isolated groves. Nine saw mills are already in operation, supplying the requirements of the local market, the exportation of timber products being prohibited by law, and even then local utilization is much re-

The report concludes with an expression of regret that the development of rolled bill in the office of the Secretary the vast resources of Alaska is impoverishing instead of enriching the country, the President of the Council and Speaker the principal industries being carried on by imported labor, and no equivalent left in the Territory for the valuable products annually exported.

Says the Tucson Star, in speaking of the able Chancellor of the Territorial non-appearance in the journal of the University: "To M. P. Freeman, chan-Governor's message of approval was a cellor of the University, is due the credit mere oversight of Clerk Strauss, but his of having the law reënacted providing a open declaration that the bill should tax levy of one-half mill for the Univernot pass and his known opposition to it sity. Had Mr. Freeman not taken the bears all the marks of legislative matter in hand and pushed the same juggling in an attempt to defeat the will with vigor the Legislature would have adjourned before the bill could have pos sibly passed."

You also need a first-class Furniture Store. What class or line of trade reflects with as much credit to a community as a store of this kind? After due consideration and advice of some of our friends and customers, we have concluded to make a change in our program in the near future. Will the people of Phœnix and vicinity encourage us in our departure? If so, we will, in due time, place before you such a stock of Furniture, Carpets, Crockery and Wall-Paper that would be a credit to any city. We propose to eclipse all former efforts. (See the multitude of letters received continually from all over the country ordering and extolling it.) What is Koumiss they ask. We will tell you.

We take fresh morning's milk as it comes from the dairy, pure and sweet, mix it with the proper fermenting materials, in proper proportions, bottle it, lay it away from six to twelve weeks-and that is all. These bottles, when tapped with a champagne tap, yield a beverage of the greatest refreshing and nourishing qualities. It is as gassy and sparkling as soda water, and of about the consistency of It is without doubt the finest beverage in the world, relished alike by sick and well, but to the invalid or convalescent it is a great boon. It is borne well by the stomach when no other food can be taken. Many sick persons, especially consumptives and dyspeptics in various parts of the country, are now living wholly or in part on Koumiss, and we are in constant receipt of letters from both physicians and patients expressing the greatest satisfaction with it. The expressions of a few well known physicians we give.

Dr. J. Murphy, in speaking of Koumies, says: "It will be particularly efficacious in broken down, nervous systems, and when the assimilating function of the stomach has been impaired by disease or excess. In chronic lung affection, unfortunately so common in this district, it promises to fill a want which the physician has been impotent to supply. In the above affections and others associated with weakness I would highly recommend its regular and persistent use."

Dr. I. W. Johnson says: "Dyspepsia is often cured by the use of Koumiss alone, it affording sufficient nourishment for the system without taxing the stomach in its digestion. I have been exceedingly gratified with the use of Koumiss in all cases where there is difficulty in assimilating the food. E. E. Prowell makes an excellent article, and as a beverage it excels the vinous or malt liquors." Dr. Wm. Pepper, Professor of Clinics in the University of Pennsylvania, reports a number of cases of extreme debility, of consumption and of diabetes, which is peculiarly adapted to the farmer, the appeared to be completely cured in a short time by the use of Koumiss. Dr. J. A.
